

THE TEXT:

Lina is a cool person with many special personality traits that make her different from others. During her time in elementary school, she formed a special connection with her classmate Assil, who quickly became her favourite friend. Together, they did every thing imaginable, from playing games to studying for exams. Lina loved Assil for many reasons, including her intelligence, kindness, and creativity, and saw her as a role model.

Assil had a big influence on Lina's personality, teaching her valuable life lessons that she still uses to this day. Assil encouraged Lina to be more confident and to pursue her dreams. She also tried to teach her to be patient and understanding, especially when dealing with difficult situations. As a result of their friendship Lina became more helpful and compassionate, always ready to give a helping hand to those in need.

When Assil was a child she dreamt of being a photographer because she used to like taking photos of friends and editing them. Then everything has changed since she visited a hospital for cancer's patients at Oncology Hospital in her city with her friend Lina. From that point, they decided to become doctors to help people and did something good for their country.

Even though they live in different cities now, they still talk regularly, sharing updates on their lives and memories about their childhood, and Lina feels grateful for the positive influence that Assil has had on her life.
