Part One: A-Reading Comprehension:*Text

School has been the most amazing and funniest time I admired in my life. So when I look back on my class souvenirs, I feel that I lost something very precious, something that is impossible to return back. My teachers, my classmates, my school and every single moment I lived there left special emotions and exceptional feeling on me.

I was lucky to have very respectful teachers who taught me science and important things in life, the hours I spent with them made from me a powerful person. They taught me to be self-confident, to believe in myself, to care for others, to be helpful, generous, perseverant, respectful and kind with others.

Thanks to my teachers, I learnt plenty of moral values and good qualities. I was really affected by their personalities and behaviours. I remember Mr. Talbi, my teacher of Arabic who has never been absent, he was known for his strictness, punctuality and sincerity. This man influenced me and left a great impact on my personality. So I have always tried to be like him.

I will never forget my classmates. They were my best friends since we spent unforgettable moments together in our school.
